

The York Society of Engineers

Visit to Askham Bryan College

Wednesday 26th June 2024 at 6.00pm

The next visit will be to Askham Bryan College, York on Wednesday 26th June starting at 6.00pm.

Askham Bryan College is one of the top specialist land-based colleges in the UK. The college runs a broad range of courses through programmes covering agriculture, animal management, forestry, horticulture, veterinary nursing and many other associated subjects. The college also has centres in Newcastle, Middleborough, Saltaire and Wakefield.

In 2023, a £1.7 million precision livestock facility and a £1 million Digital Skills Academy were opened.

The Askham Bryan campus is located just off the A64 on Askham Fields Lane some four miles from York city centre.

An aerial graphic of the Askham Bryan College campus

(Reproduced with permission from Askham Bryan College)

The visit will be followed by a meal at the Nags Head pub in Askham Bryan which is a short drive from the college.